

Fast Facts About Beloit's Student Body

As of September 13, 2007, there were 1375 full and part-time students at Beloit; 94% (1299) were at least half-time, degree-seeking students.

Diversity

Beloit's Fall 2007 student population comes from 47 states and 34 different countries; excluding the United States, the 5 countries from which Beloit currently has the most students are Japan, China, India, Germany, and Vietnam.

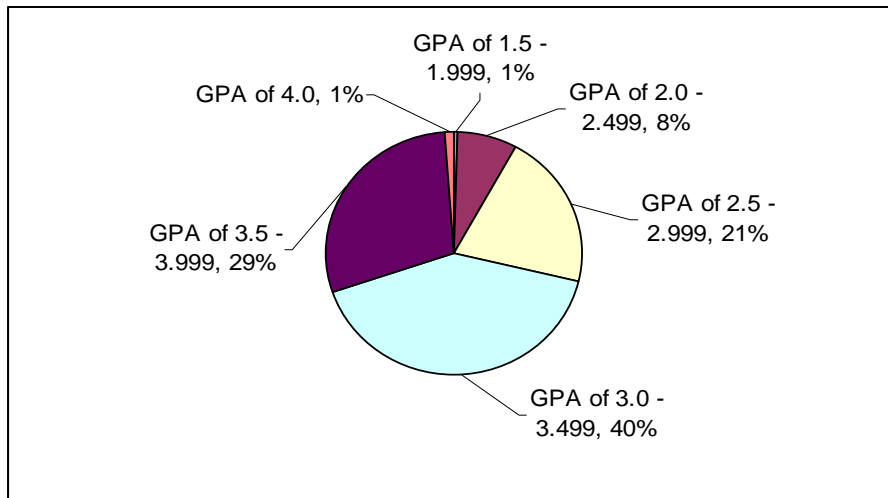

Approximately 58% of Beloit's student body is female. The racial and ethnic composition of the current student population is depicted below:

Student Academics

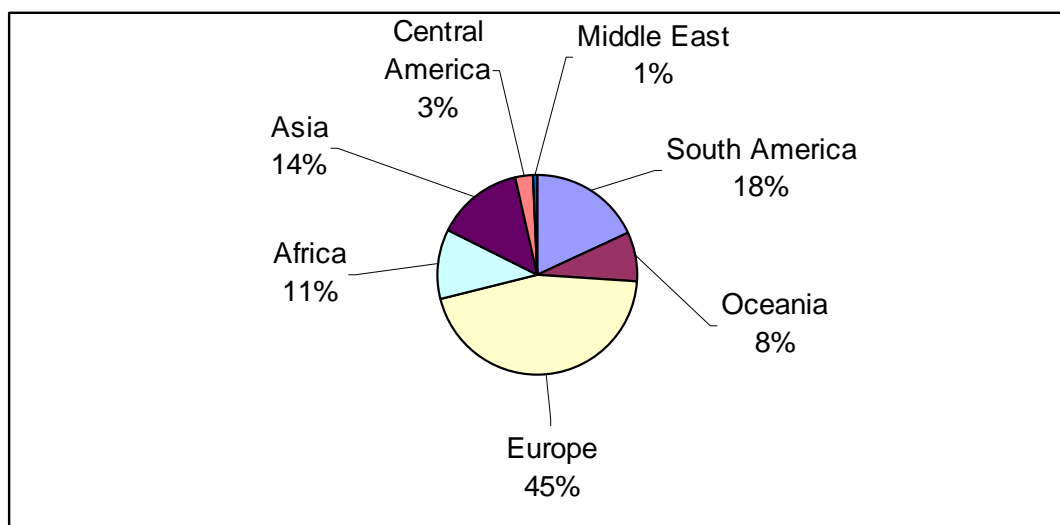

For the Fall 2007 semester, degree-seeking students are enrolled in an average of 4.07 units (16.28 semester hours) each. A total of 1450 students are enrolled in Humanities courses, 1285 in Social Science courses, 1037 in Math, Life and Physical Science courses, 700 in Art and Performing Arts courses, 608 in Foreign Language courses (including ESL), 158 in Education courses, and 151 in Interdisciplinary courses. The 5 most popular majors are Education, Anthropology, Creative Writing, Psychology, and International Relations; the majority of students (47%, including all first year students) have not yet declared a major.

According to the 2006 NSSE, 30% of Beloit seniors report spending more than 20 hours a week preparing for class, and 78% "somewhat" or "strongly" agree they are "driven more to learn than to receive high grades". The following graph shows the GPA distribution for students with at least one full semester at Beloit:

Study Abroad

During the 2006-07 academic year, 160 Beloit students studied abroad for at least one full semester; 74 of these students were on Beloit-sponsored programs. Of the remainder, 6 attended ACM-sponsored programs and 80 participated in individual programs. The geographic distribution of program destinations are found in the graph below:

Student Activities

Clubs. There are 80 clubs currently on file with the Beloit Student Congress. As of September 13, 2007, 63 of these were registered for the Fall 2007 semester; an additional 17 were considered active, but had not yet registered for the semester.

Greek. Beloit has 3 national fraternities and 3 sororities (2 national, 1 local); approximately 15% of full-time Beloit students are members. In the 2006-07 academic year, these organizations performed a total of 4046 community service hours and raised $4,092 for charity.

Athletics. Beloit has 18 varsity athletic teams; 9 each for men and women. During the 2006-07 academic year, Beloit had 312 varsity athletes, representing 23% of the sports-eligible student population. Thirty-six percent of these athletes participated in 2 or more varsity sports during the year.