

Critical Identity Studies Major

(10 units)

1. Critical Identity Studies 165.
2. Global requirement: 1 unit of course work or study abroad experience that explores some aspect of identity formation, structures of inequality, or processes of power and resistance in international or global perspectives.
3. History requirement: 1 unit of study that explores some aspect of identity formation, structures of inequality, or processes of power and resistance through historical thinking.
4. Two units of advanced-level critical identity studies course work that engages theoretical concepts relevant to critical identity studies, including 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 309, 320, or other courses so designated by the chair of critical identity studies.
5. Four additional units of critical identity studies course work.
6. A liberal arts capstone course (such as Interdisciplinary Studies 310: Translating the Liberal Arts) chosen in consultation with the student's advisor.

Critical Identity Studies Minor

(6 units)

1. Critical Identity Studies 165.
2. Two units of advanced-level critical identity studies course work that engages theoretical concepts relevant to critical identity studies, including Critical Identity Studies 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 309, 320, or other courses so designated by the chair of critical identity studies.
3. Three additional units of critical identity studies course work.