Department of Economics Endowed Internship Award

The Department of Economics is privileged to be able to offer junior majors an opportunity to apply for endowed internship awards. These awards are made possible by the generosity of Beloit College alumni. The purpose of the award is to encourage our majors to seek out challenging and demanding summer internships between the junior and senior year. The stipend available to students has two components: $1,500 available for documented costs associated with the internship (travel and rent are two obvious examples) and a $1,000 payment upon successful completion of the internship. Successful completion of the internship includes a letter evaluating performance by the internship supervisor, a self-evaluation, and a public presentation during the fall semester.
