Energy audits are used to assess a building’s energy use. We performed audits of heating and cooling loads in more than 30 campus buildings, generating data which helps determine cost-effectiveness of energy saving modifications.